Not For Profit

Fundraising Regulation 101

What are the laws surrounding raising money or donations for a charity or not-for-profit in Australia? While you'd expect the answer to be simple one, not-for-profit fundraising laws in Australia are incredibly complex - and almost impossible to navigate.

Our Andrew Lind has developed a Guide Paper on the current fundraising regulations by State, the effect of the Australian Consumer Law on charitable fundraising and where we may go to next. You can access this comprehensive Guide here.

National Disability Insurance Scheme

The roll out of the NDIS and what it means for participants

The NDIS is the progressive replacement of the National Disability Agreement (NDA). The NDA traditionally 'block funded support and care services for people with disability. The NDIS is being rolled out over 3 years across Queensland and aims to achieve a system where "choice and control" is fundamental and gives effect to the United Nations Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disability.

The NDIS encourages people with disability to develop their own funding plan. These plans are for the funding of 'reasonable and necessary services and supports' which are directly related to the persons individual ongoing disability support needs.

We are advising on NDIS issues nationally.

Lornagh Howarth (Law Clerk) and Kristel Winkler (Senior Associate) of our Commercial Team discuss the NDIS and its implications here.

Employment

Do employers owe a duty of care during disciplinary or investigatory processes?

The QLD Supreme Court matter of [Govier v Uniting care Community \[2017\] QCA 12](#) addresses issues relating to holding employers responsible for psychiatric injuries sustained by employees in the workplace. The Court was to consider whether an employer has an obligation to supply a safe system of investigation and decision making relating to matters that concern the contract of employment.

Our employment team discuss the case and highlight reasons that assist employer investigation and disciplinary matters. You can read more here.
