

Hello April!

Curated Legal Articles April 2019

Not-for-profit: Managing your Charity and Meeting ACNC Requirements

The revocation of a NSW charity following an investigation into the activities and operations of the organisation is a warning to existing charities to adhere to certain obligation and responsibilities in accordance with the Australian Charities and Not-for-profits Commission \(Consequential and Transitional\) Act 2012 (Cth).

Read It On Our Website

Elder law: New Quality Standards: Legal, governance and risk management: meeting your obligations in home care

As a society in Australia over the past 5 years, we have seen a significantly greater interest and scrutiny of the performance of organizations of Australia who are charged with, or have assumed, responsibility for caring for the vulnerable in our community.

Read It On Our Website

Estate law: Family Provision Applications where there is no Will

The case of Davison v Kempson demonstrates key features of family provision applications including disentitling conduct in misconduct towards the deceased.

Read It On Our Website

C&L Cycling team to cycle 110km

Our avid cyclists are at it again...

This time participating in the Tour de Brisbane, part of the UCI Grand Grand Fondo World Series. In the lead up to the race on Sunday, our team put together a cycling video to illustrate our ability help people in the event of cycling accidents. With our growing team, we find it great joy to share a passion, meet regularly and encourage one other around a small interest group. We find that it is in these groups one makes way for personal discovery (there's more in the tank than you think there is), deeper friendships (sometimes extending beyond the walls of C&L) and space for community (we're not living, if we're not growing). Hope this encourages someone, as it did us ☐