

May the blessing & joy of Christ coming to earth be your portion this Christmas.

Please note that the Corney & Lind office will be closed from 12.00 pm, Tuesday, 24 December 2019 and will re-open at 8.30 am on Thursday, 2 January 2020.

Wishing all our newsletter subscribers a Merry Christmas and a prosperous New Year.

Our Pick of Legal Articles

Setting aside a 'Pre-Nup' Agreement in Australia

Case Note: Fredrick v Fredrick (2019) FLC 93
Fredrick v Fredrick (2019) FLC 93 ('Fredrick') is a recent appeal case to the Full Family Court of Australia regarding a dispute over whether a Binding Financial Agreement ('pre-nup Agreement') could be set aside.

Read our article

I've received an employment contract. Do I need to get it reviewed?

Short answer — yes, you might need an employment contract lawyer to review your contract. Entering into a new employment opportunity can be exciting, particularly if you have found your dream job. You've made it through the interview process and they have finally called to offer you the job. What comes next?

Read our article

False and misleading statements or representations in retail shop leasing

The Retail Shop Leases Act 1994 \(Qld\) provides relief for a tenant to be paid (by the landlord) "reasonable compensation for loss or damage suffered by the [tenant] because... the [tenant] entered into the lease, including a renewal or assignment of the lease, on the basis of a false or misleading statement or misrepresentation made by the [landlord] or any person acting under the lessor's authority".

Read our article

Compensation Corner

Video Report will assist in
of the story.

Practical Tips - on proving fault in a motor vehicle accident

Read our Blog

When DNA evidence goes wrong

This recent case summary delves into the evidence of an accident that resulted in a serious injury for a travelling family in North Stradbroke Island. The case is an important reminder that even when there is DNA evidence, all evidence and circumstances need to be taken into account.

Ask a compensation question and receive a response on our blog for free.

Read our Blog

Have a Compo Question? Email us

NEW - Corney & Lind Legal Chatter Podcast

Corney & Lind Legal Chatter Podcast — where we discuss different, but likely scenarios; provide general legal information and get to know our lawyers.

We have 2 podcast episodes available online:

- Domestic violence in Churches; and
- Charities giving funds overseas.

Be sure you don't miss an episode.

Follow the Corney & Lind Soundcloud Page here: <https://soundcloud.com/corneyandlind>

Link to Listen Here

Visit our website

